FACULTY

TO THE CLASS OF 1960:

In his work, The Time of Your Life, William Saroyan writes, "In the time of your life live so that in that good time there shall be no ugliness . . . been goodness anywhere and when it is found, bring it out of its hiding place and let it be free and unashamed. Discover in all things that which draws out a reward completely."

What greater responsibility or challenge can be given? What greater responsibility or challenge can you accept as you leave high school? At no other commencement season can you even pretend to look ahead in a positive frame of mind to demonstrate to the world as the unrealistic. They too often urge you to change the world - an impossible role. Consequently, while I urge you in all is to seek goodness in your own little corner of the world. If each of you, and of us, seek the good in each other perhaps the day will come when the ugliness of the world will disappear and disappear.

I wish you happiness and success.

William C. Sproat
